School Spectacular

We are extremely proud of the outstanding performance our choir students gave at the Schools Spectacular last week. This world class event was held at the Qudos Bank Arena at Olympic Park and demonstrated an amazing showcase of young talent from schools across the state. Our students are to be commended on their determination and commitment which led to such success on the night. The concert was outstanding and the talent incredible, with many breathtaking highlights. This is an experience our students will remember forever.

We would like to thank Mrs Morrison and Miss Loos for their commitment and dedication in supporting our students in this valuable event. Thank you and congratulations also go to Mr Debnam, who is an integral member of the Schools Spectacular production team, for his contribution.

White Ribbon

Last Friday, we marked White Ribbon Day with a powerful assembly. This event, and the conversations surrounding the White Ribbon Movement, are some of the most critical we can have. Currently one woman a week dies as a result of domestic violence. This is a horrendous statistic and it must change. We all play a significant role in raising our voices to show that the use of physical force and physical violence, particularly violence against women is never okay. We would like to thank all who coordinated this event, particularly Mr Fung, Mr Smith, Mr Leeson, Mr Vagne and Mr Dillon in their commitment to breaking the silence.

*We value
Success for all*

Transition

This week our students participated in the first of three transition sessions that are designed to support students learning and social expectations at the next stage in their education and enable them to meet the 2018 school year with excitement and confidence. Our students enjoyed seeing what next year's learning journey will encompass and are looking forward to the follow up sessions.

End of Year Celebrations

As the term comes to a close we are getting ready to celebrate a year of excellent outcomes. We look forward to our Award Night on Tuesday where we will celebrate the outstanding learning of 2017.

This is followed by our much-anticipated School Picnic where the whole school comes together for a brilliant day of games, picnic lunches and nature walks through Cabarita Park.

We are also looking forward to celebrating with our students at the Year 6 Farewell and Graduation ceremony and the Kindergarten Graduation Ceremony. These events celebrate the educational journey of our students, we look forward to seeing our valued parents and community members at these events.

HWPS Star Factor

The STAR FACTOR team will be letting all students know in week 9 if they were successful with making it through. If students are successful it would great if they could have a costume. The running order will be placed outside of the canteen on Monday week 9.

Keep posted for our special judges who are more than excited to see the special performances that the students have planned.

IF YOU ARE SUCCESSFUL YOU NEED TO HAVE YOUR MUSIC ON A CD OR USB!

Singers and dancers: You need your music clearly labelled on a CD: Name of group/individual, song title and track.

Musicians: you need to tell your stage teacher which instrument, title of song/piece you are playing. If you are in a group, I need the names of the group members

Costumes: They make your act look better so get creative. You do not have to spend a lot of money. Be creative and clever and find some old stuff you can recycle.

The Star Factor team are in need of your help and support by donating prizes for the categories. We would greatly appreciate prizes, they can be tennis balls, toys, books, vouchers, anything that you would like to donate please send to the office.

Stage 1 Excursion to Sydney Sealife Aquarium

On Monday and Tuesday our Stage 1 students attended an excursion to the Sydney Sealife Aquarium. At the Aquarium they saw a large variety of aquatic environments and the creatures that live in each of these. The students walked through underwater tunnels and saw sharks and dugongs, and they had a boat ride through the cold penguin exhibit. Stage 1 finished their excursion at the largest tank in the Aquarium, called the reef theatre, where they saw all of the aquatic animals that live around a coral reef. It was a fantastic day.

Tips from the counsellor: Supporting our STARS

Below is some information to assist children to feel supported during challenging times.

Part 1 - Helping children adjust after separation or divorce

Separation or divorce can be an unsettling time for both the family and children. It usually signals a time of big change for family life. It is normal for a child to feel upset, and that is okay. Research supports letting your child know that this is a tough time for everyone can help him/her to realise they are not the only one feeling upset.

Tips for talking with your child about separation and divorce

1. Keep it simple

Children do not need to know all the details. They do need to know what is happening and that things will be okay again.

Explain in simple language that your child will understand.

Reassure your child that both parents love him/her and will take care of them. That you have decided it works best for the family if you and your partner live apart.

Ensure your child understands; it is not their fault you have separated or divorced.

2. Take time with hard questions

Sometimes it will be difficult to answer hard questions that you and your husband may have not worked out yet. It is okay to let your child know you do not have all the answers yet, and there are still things to work out.

Encourage your children to talk to each parent directly when asking questions. Sometimes this can be hard for young children.

3. Keep up conversations

Children can often think about things long after you have talked about it. Be prepared to answer the same question more than once.

Organising a regular time to talk can give your child an opportunity to discuss any concerns they have.

4. Making time for your child to stay connected to each parent

Organise time for your child to Skype, Face Time, Voice Call, Text Message or Email each parent when they are staying/living with the other.

5. Talk about feelings

Your child will probably see either parent feeling sad, angry or upset. This is normal. Ensure your child know that your feelings are not his/her fault and that your feelings will get better in time.

When your child sees you express feelings in a calm way they learn it is okay to express their feelings too.

It might be difficult to hear about your child is hurt and/or angry but it is important they get to talk too.

6. Keep familiar routines

Routines help children feel safe and secure. Keeping up routines, such as having meals together and bedtime, help your child cope with changes.

It is important that your child knows who is picking him/her up each day, and whose place they are staying at each week, or weekend.

You can create some new routines too. This might happen if there are changes to who picks up your child or childcare arrangements.

*We value
community participation*

7. Let children make some decisions

Involve your child in small day-to-day decisions such as, how they like their room, what you might do together on the weekend, or what to eat at dinner. This provides your child with a feeling of some control.

8. Make time to do things with your child

Taking the time to play board games, card games, play at the park, going for a bike, scooter ride or on a picnic helps build you to have fun with them and maintain positive connections.

9. Let childcare or school know.

Letting your child's teacher know when you are separated or divorced allows them to support and understand your child if there are any changes in their behaviour.

Information is taken from the Raising Children Network (http://raisingchildren.net.au/articles/separation_helping_children_adjust.html)

For external, support for your child the Uniting The Anchor Unifam Parramatta "The Anchor helps guide children through their parents' separation or divorce."

The program offers –

Counselling for children and young people.
Therapeutic groups for children and young people to share their experiences with peers who understand what they are going through.
Child Consultation so that their experiences are understood and their needs are considered when their parents are in Family Dispute Resolution (Mediation), counselling or in a Parenting Orders Program.
Seminars for parents.

家庭在面对一些危机的时候应如何帮孩子过渡，下面有一些建议：

Part 1 - Helping children adjust after separation or divorce

帮助孩子面对家长的离异

通常这个时候家庭都会发生重大变化，孩子会难过。要是家长和他们沟通，让他们知道他们的感觉是很正常的，会有助于他们过渡。

Tips for talking with your child about separation and divorce

如何和孩子讨论离婚的事

1. Keep it simple

- ❖ 简单一点，孩子不需要知道详情。他们需要知道他们会安全就行了。
- ❖ 用简单的话解释
- ❖ 向他们保证父母都爱他们，让他们知道父母离婚对家庭是最好的
- ❖ 让孩子明白，父母离异不是他们的错

2. Take time with hard questions

- ❖ 比较复杂的问题，慢慢回答，还没有答案的就等有答案时再说。
- ❖ 鼓励你的孩子有问题直接单独问双方的家长

3. Keep up conversations

- ❖ 给孩子安排时间让他们问他们关心的问题。他们可能重重复复问你同一个问题，

4. Making time for your child to stay connected to each parent

- ❖ 让孩子能够保持和双方父母的联系。

5. Talk about feelings

- ❖ 孩子通常看到父母伤心，生气等等，要让他们知道那不是他们的错，而且父母会慢慢好起来的。
- ❖ 当你们心平气和的和他们沟通，那么他们也学会了表达他们的感受。
- ❖ 可能当你听到孩子说他们受到伤害，生气，你会难过。但是让他们有机会表达是很重要的。

6. Keep familiar routines

- ❖ 保持正常的家庭生活让孩子有安全感。比如一起吃饭或睡觉，这样有利于他们应付家里的变迁。
- ❖ 孩子要提早知道每天是谁接他们放学，他们会在那里过夜或过周末等等。
- ❖ 你也可以做一些新的安排，特别是托儿服务的改变。

7. Let children make some decisions

- ❖ 让孩子有机会做一些小决定，这样他们会感到生活中他们还是有些可以掌控的事。

8. Make time to do things with your child

- ❖ 安排时间和孩子一起玩棋子，扑克游戏，去公园玩，骑车，野餐等等，让他们在玩乐中获取正能量。

9. Let childcare or school know.

- ❖ 让孩子的班主任或托儿服务的老师知道你们家庭的变化，这会有利于他们了解孩子行为的变化以及积极帮助他们。
